

Why do I want to become a software engineer and why do I think Telerik Academy is the right place to do it?

When can you say that you are happy and content with your job? How can you truly measure success, beside the trivial criteria of money and status? And if you come to think about it - do money or status really make you happy? For me the most important thing is to feel that you are doing something useful on your job, that by giving up 8 hours a day of your life you contribute something, you make the life of even a single person just a little bit easier. That is what would make me happy about my job.

The life of the ordinary person today is inevitably tied to at least at some degree to some kind of a technological device - a computer, a smart TV, a smartphone, a tablet. Most of the people will have a hard time if they will have to stop using these devices. But would that happen? Is it because they are so attached to the hardware, to the physicality of the device, or is it because of the things that they can do on them? I believe that after a rather small amount of thinking, every reasonable man will come to the conclusion that most important thing about a technological device is not how it looks, but you can do with it. And what you can do on a technological device actually means what software can you run on it?

Putting it all together - given the tremendous part that technological devices have become in the lives of millions of people, how can I make their life easier and better by waking up everyday and going to work? And the answer to that is simple - become a software engineer! Be the next person to think of and create something useful that people will use everyday on the computer, smartphone or a tablet! Give everything you can to try and make the life of many people more organized, less stressful or simply more fun!

That is why I want to become a software engineer!

And I think that Telerik Academy is a great place to start for people like me. For people who want to change their field of profession, because the specialty that looked so interesting and promising at the University turned out to be boring and giving zero gratification. For people, who currently need to have a job, but also want to make that change. For people, who want to try something new and fun! For people who are looking for something that will challenge them and make them feel alive again!

And is why I want to start this new journey in my life at the Telerik Academy!
